ITALIAN TRADE AGENCY

ITA Beijing Office

NEWSLETTER

MACROECONOMICS & BANKING AND FINANCE

9 - 15 November 2026

China's CPI up 0.7 pct in October

China's consumer inflation remained mild in October, with the consumer price index (CPI) rising 0.7% year on year. (National Bureau of Statistics)

China's PPI Rises 5.7 pct in October

China's producer price index (PPI), which measures costs for goods at the factory gate, went up 5.7 percent year on year in October. (National Bureau of Statistics)

China's PMI Production and New Order Sub- index Fell in October

China's production sub-index stood at 49.8, down 1.9 points from September, while the new orders sub-index fell 1.1 points to 49.4, as both supply and demand moderated during the month. (National Bureau of Statistics)

China's High-Tech and Equipment Manufacturing PMIs Remain in Expansion Territory

The PMI for high-tech manufacturing stood at 51.3, while that for equipment manufacturing came in at 50.6, both remaining above the 50-point threshold that separates expansion from contraction.(National Bureau of Statistics)

Both Purchasing and Factory-Gate Price Sub-Indices Decline in October

China's purchasing price sub-index stood at 56.8, down 4 points from September, while the factory-gate price sub-index eased 2.3 points to 51.7, partly reflecting recent declines in the prices of certain commodities. (National Bureau of Statistics)

China's Central Bank to Step up Re-Lending Policy for Stock Repurchases, Increased Holdings

The People's Bank of China (said on Wednesday that it will intensify implementation of its re-lending policy for stock repurchases and increased holdings in a bid to maintain capital market stability. (People's Bank of China)

China's Central Bank to Raise Forex Reserve Requirement Ratio to Keep Yuan Stable

The People's Bank of China (PBOC) said in a statement that it will raise the forex reserve requirement ratio from 4 to 6 percent from Nov. 15 this year. (People's Bank of China)