

iDempiere ERP

The open source, modular and scalable business management platform for your company's digital transformation.

iDempiere is a fully open source ERP · CRM · SCM suite that brings every business process into a single database: from sales to production, from inventory to accounting, all the way to after-sales support. Built in Java on a modular OSGi architecture, it runs on Windows, Linux and Mac with PostgreSQL or Oracle databases and is fully web-based. Labinf Sistemi implements, customises and maintains it with full Italian tax localisation.

Key features

Accounting & tax

Multi-schema, multi-currency and multi-chart of accounts. Meets Italian tax requirements, maintained by the community.

Sales & purchasing

Real-time monitoring of sales and purchases, with an integrated document flow.

Inventory & Supply Chain

Stock management, logistics and optimisation of the supply chain.

Production

Planning and control of production processes, with modules you can activate as needed.

CRM & after-sales

Customer, service and support management, with a web portal for self-service access.

HR & reporting

Human resources, attendance and advanced analytics. REST interfaces for external integrations.
