

LUMINOUS SKIRTING

PATENT PROTECTED

This patent relates to furnishing accessories, in particular skirting boards, totally luminous, which guarantee an extremely functional integrated lighting, but also a double directional lighting through the use of a single LED strip.

The patent of the luminous skirting boards has made it possible to obtain two different types of models through the same production cycle:

- a totally luminous model particularly suitable for office and living areas;
- a model characterized by double directional lighting, particularly suitable for paths in public spaces such as museums, cinemas and theaters, corridors of hotels, cruise ships and wellness centers.

