Hi,

Let me present myself - I'm Max and I'll explain the story of Kintsugi. I have been a hairdresser for many years. It is a job that satisfies me and that I still adore. My hands over time have become ever more trained and like most hairdressers I use many brands of hair products knowing that often color, perms and bleach are full of chemicals. It is not always easy to keep hair healthy but with the many tools available and with years of experience we are always able to make customers feel unique and remain enthusiastic. One day I stopped and looked at the hair washing section of my salon and started counting how many types of shampoo I had. There were many - all with different purposes. That's when I wondered if I could produce a line of products that work with all hair types guaranteeing performance alongside shine, texture, repair and softness that all customers expect. Soon after, during a business dinner with my colleagues, they too confirmed that they have the same need in their salons. The next day the project began and the first results arrived. I cannot emphasize how many times we corrected, adjusted, changed and balanced the mix of ingredients. For months I continued to experiment, until my clients started to feel their hair softer, invigorated and shiny. Today over a year has passed since the start of this journey. What motivates us is having created a product different from many others with a formula that should be considered artisanal and unique with primary choice ingredients privileged. This creates a Kintsugi brand full of love and passion for hair accompanied by over thirty years of work. This is Kintsugi's art, putting things back together, the elements, giving new life to hair making it perfect.
