GREEN & SUSTAINABILITY

Today, millions of trees are cut down for paper production.

According to GreenPeace, Italians have the highest per capita consumption of paper in the world, a family of 4 consumes an average of 2 trees every year and deforestation increases more every day, causing a lack of oxygen as well as irreparable environmental damage. The world of sailing is in itself a green world because it uses a completely natural form of energy to navigate: the wind and in recent years further steps have been taken with the development of electric boats and photovoltaic panels aimed at lower energy consumption. But this is not enough, we also want to do our part to make this world more sustainable.

BoatBook is a unique project because it has the first digital Check-In eliminating useless paper and speeding up times both on the part of the user but above all on the part of the charter which will derive economic benefit by no longer having to buy reams of paper and toner to print the countless checklists filled out by tenants

FUN & EASY

A Web app that was Easy to use, Fun and always at hand. Here is our challenge

The renter simply registered,searchers for the boat for his holiday and checks availability. The fun comes when you receive the email confirmation from the charter.The user start to watching presentation video and tutorials of the boat he's about to rent, gets to know it better and becomes familiar with it. Once the holiday has begun, the renter has the checklist complete with a map and video that explain the featuring of each part of the boat and above all the precise position of each equipment . Impossible to be distracted when doing something FUN

Saving the checklist in PDF format it will be possible to consult it at any time from any device.

Our App will soon become a Community for all fans of sailing holiday and your feedback will helps us to improve our platform more and more

ORIGINALITY

A vacation App
without prices?

In any situation, when searching something, the first info you look at is the price, but sometimes it's not a good choice.

When we want to rent a boat and we are beginners, we don't know any charter. We look at many search app (very useful and full of feedback) but which don't give us direct contact with the charter or shipowners until after completing the payment

We are sure that direct contact between charter and renter can be the right solution to establish a relationship of trust

Originality for us means giving the possibility to charter and shipowner to manage their customers as they want. In their profile will have the possibility to insert their email, website and telephone number.
