Veneto

Over forty years have passed since our parents established this small winery, which is humble yet run with much enthusiasm.

In the past, the grapes we grew were delivered to the local Cantina Sociale (cooperative wine cellar). Seven of us, brothers and cousins, inherited a business that we now run. Requiring our full involvement and commitment, it has now grown to a considerable size.

A love of country life and a passion for vine growing, in the first instance, have led to the creation of Ilatium. We are involved in producing fine wines such as Soave, Valpolicella and Amarone, the quintessence of our warm lands of Illasi, which has deep-rooted excellence.

In 2014 was founded the brand of Cantine Europa with the name of Sibiliana Vini. The objective of the brand is to carefully select the vineyards and grapes to produce the best wines offered by our territory. The brand wants to interpret, with an analogy, the concept of a "lighthouse" of the territory, which is inspired by "the Sibiliana Tower", still intact and located on the coast of Western Sicily in the municipality of Petrosino.

The tower was built around 1500 by the Spanish government together with others 37 towers located in the Sicilian coasts, the main function of the watchtowers was to signal the presence of Saracen pirates and the track of tuna.

Grapes planted are Tuscan varieties, some now rare heritage reds in addition to precious Brunello.

The ecology and diversity of our land is paramount to us, therefore we restrict the area under vines and use regenerative methods including grazing our sheep among the vines and olives!

The winery is eco renovated including Cork insulation on the walls.

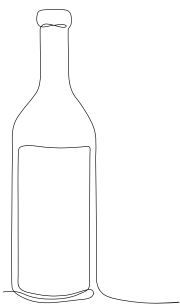

We are proud of our gentle low intervention winemaking, including no added yeasts following old Tuscan traditions.
