After 16 years of activity, our company's product range is exported to various countries around the world. Throughout these years of change, we have remained true to the principle of using safe ingredients. And this is precisely the secret of our success. Our customers have grown over time due to the fact that we offer them a range of quality products at competitive prices.

We support dynamically our partners, offering them over products also have a variety of means and promotional techniques, such as 1 + 1 pack gift, exhibitors specially designed, advertising campaigns, etc. Our www.Aquathermae.it website provides the consumer with the necessary information about the range and use of our products. In the context of our international expansion we would like to be present in your market. This is why we are contacting you because we are seriously interested in working with you. We strongly believe that your prominent position on the local market coupled with our products and services will produce excellent results in a short time. For this reason we would like to have the opportunity to get in touch with the person responsible for the cosmetics sector in order to present in detail the advantages of our AQUATHERMAE line and establish along the path to a mutually profitable collaboration.

We are available for any clarification.
