Who We Are

Siwa Soft Style Home is a brand owned by Zandarin.

Founded in 1992 by Silvano after early experience in a family upholstery business active since the mid-20th century, the company evolved from local distribution to international markets, expanding its language from classic Italian taste to more contemporary lifestyles.

Siwa Soft Style designs and manufactures sofas, armchairs, beds and coordinated furnishings, combining Italian craft culture with an international sensibility. From classic-inspired elegance to contemporary modernist volumes, every piece is built to define an atmosphere, not just a product.

Our Philosophy

Our way of working is built on in-house craftsmanship and an artisanal method that combines traditional upholstery knowledge with innovative controlled processes, to deliver comfort and durability at a consistently high level.

Tailor-made is our standard. Every model can be customized in size, finishes and details, with quality guaranteed at every step of the process.

Customization goes beyond dimensions: we can refine the product down to the smallest elements, such as trims, stitching and piping, so each piece feels truly personal and project-specific.

For contract and residential projects, we also develop fully bespoke designs from client or architect drawings, translating concepts into one-of-a-kind pieces with the same production discipline.

Way of Working

Siwa Soft Style Home supports interior designers, retailers and private clients with customizable solutions across materials, finishes and configurations, developed with a manufacturing mindset where precision and consistency are always guaranteed.

A structured catalog is available, and selected products are supported by dedicated 3D assets to simplify specification and project development, helping professionals move faster from concept to selection, and from selection to execution.

Over the years, the company's growth has been shaped by an expanding network of collaborations with architecture studios, interior designers and industry professionals worldwide.

These partnerships continuously inform our collections, pushing us to deliver tailor-made solutions, reliable lead times and project-ready documentation, so every piece can be integrated seamlessly into high-end residential and contract interiors.

Complete Product Range

Siwa Soft Style Home offers a complete product range designed to shape entire environments with a consistent identity.

From upholstered pieces for both living and night areas: sofas, armchairs and beds; to a curated selection of complements such as wooden furniture, tables and coordinated accessories, each element is conceived to work together in the same language of materials, proportions and detail.

This breadth makes it easier for architects and interior designers to build full, harmonious projects, mixing statement pieces and supporting elements, while maintaining the same level of craftsmanship and customization.

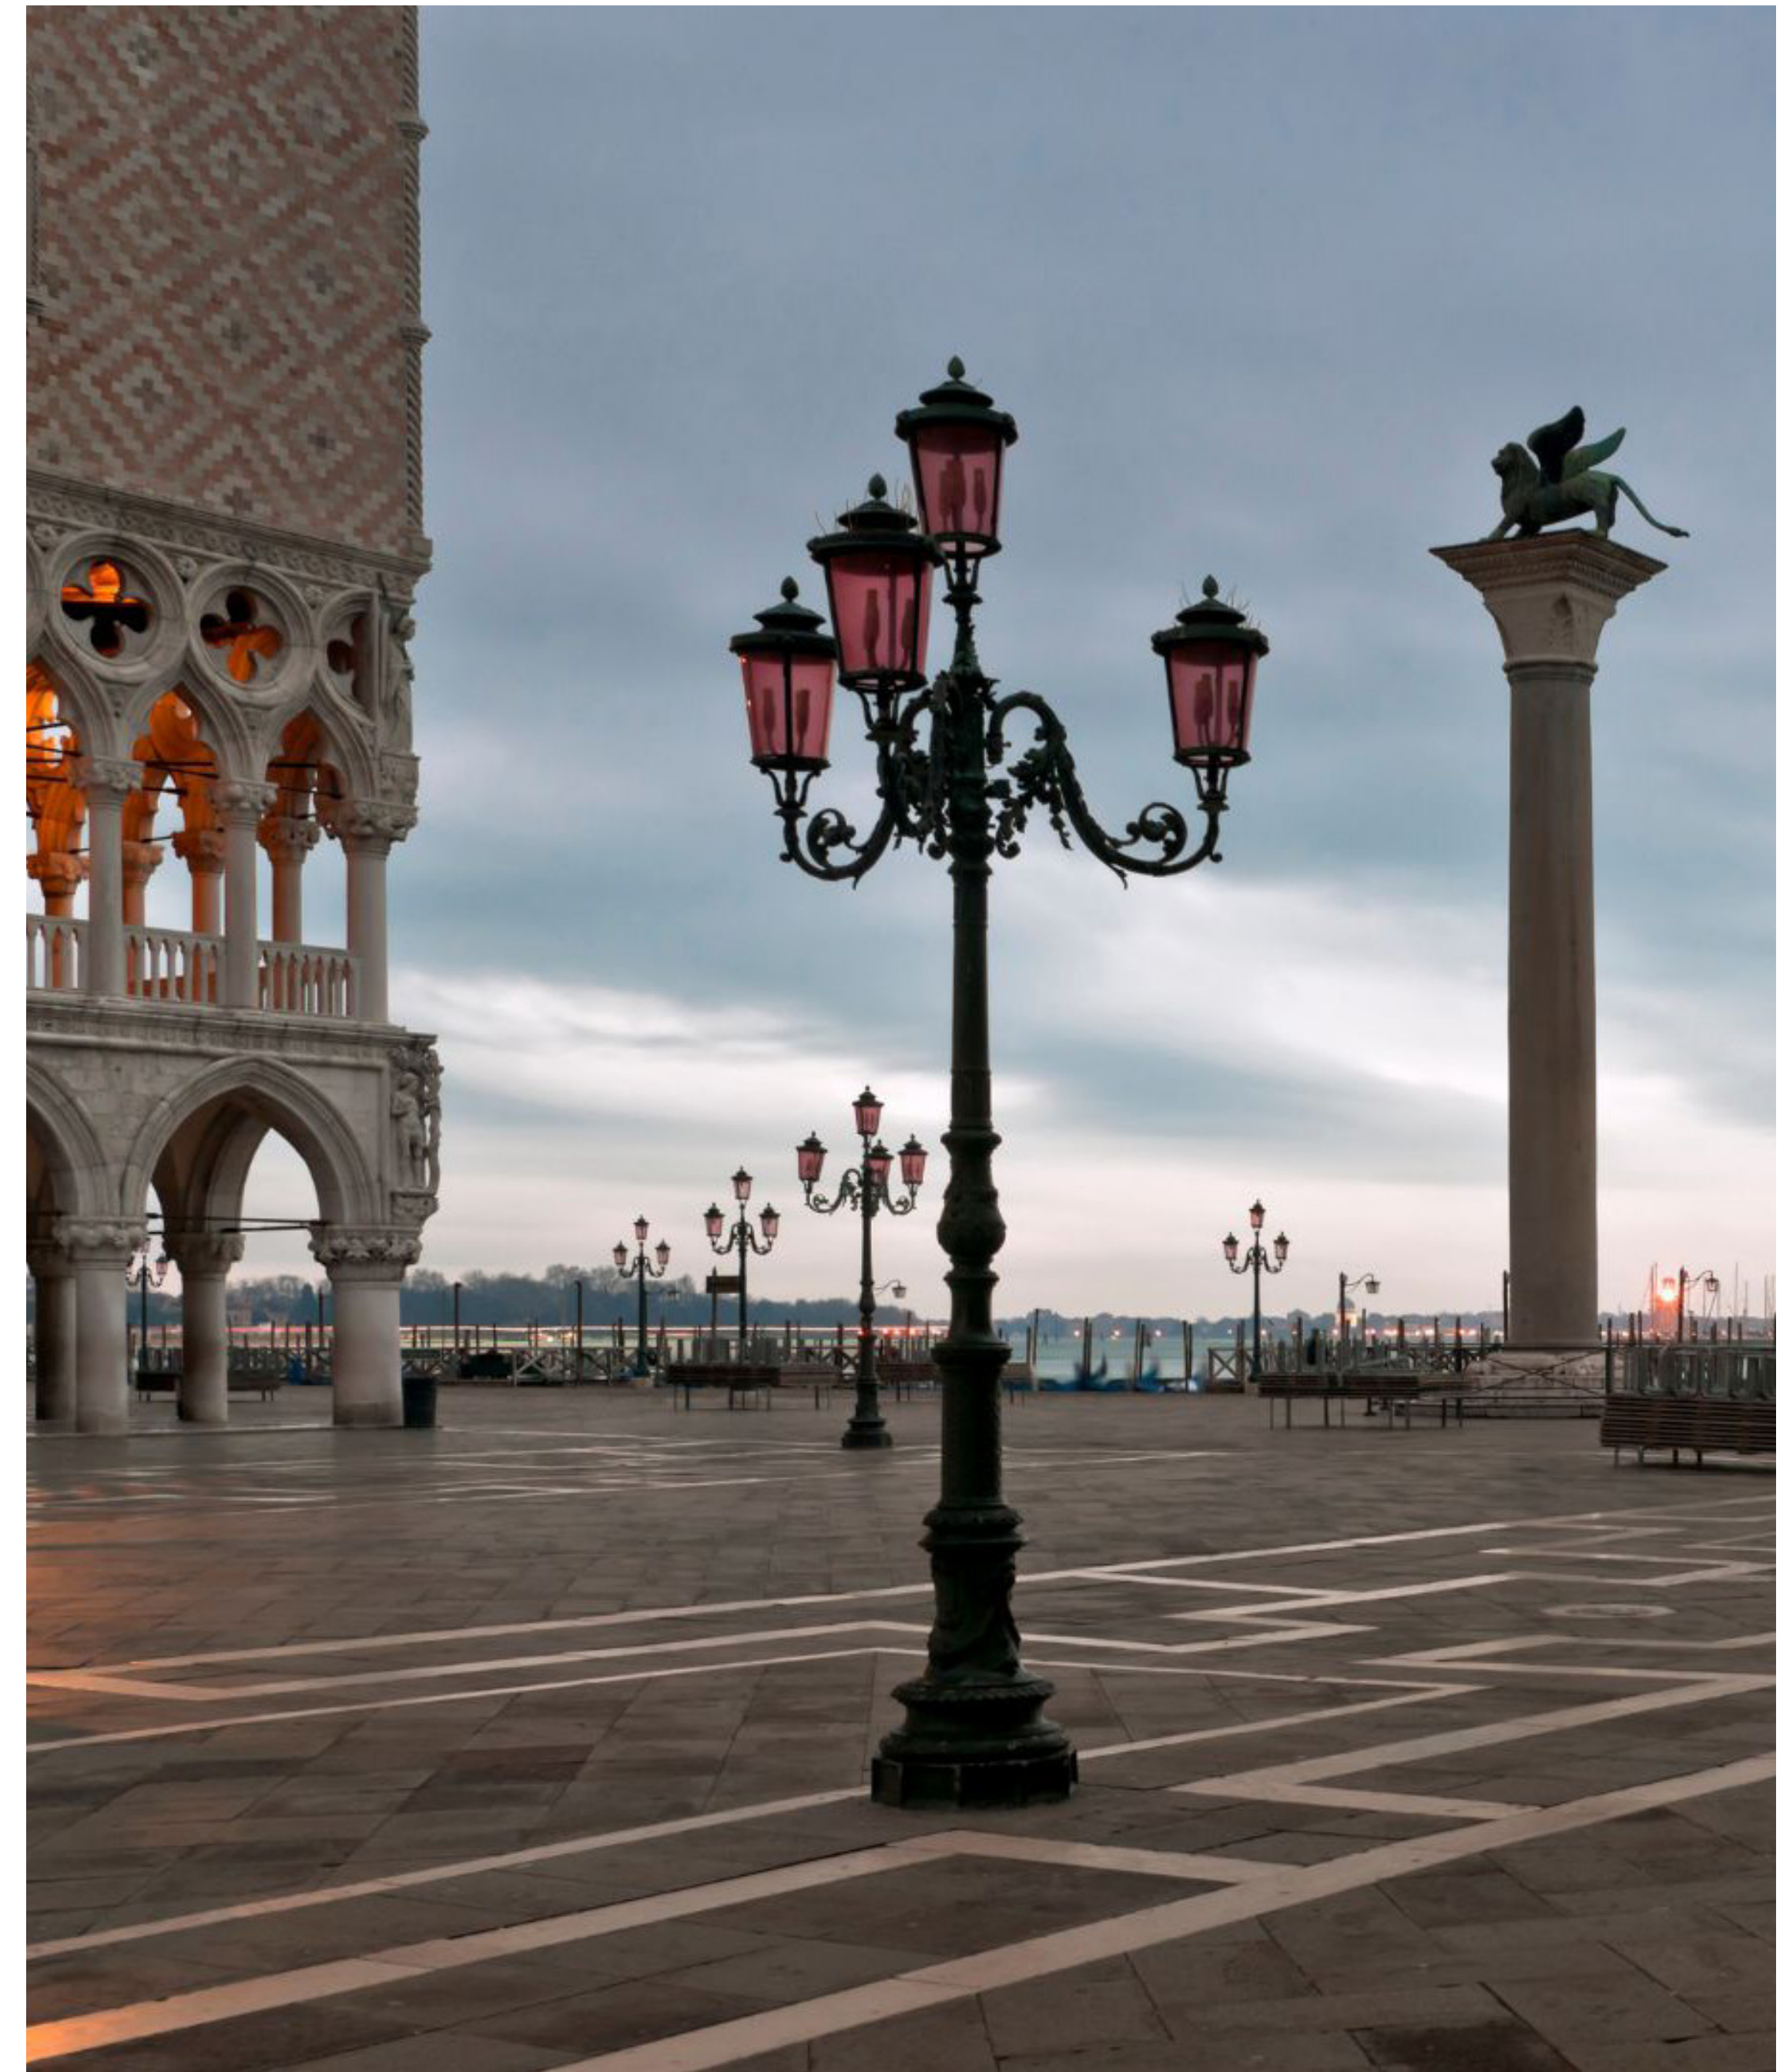

When a project calls for something unique, we also develop one-of-a-kind pieces starting from client or architect drawings, ensuring continuity with the collection and the same production discipline.

Where We Are

Campodarsego, Italy.

Our headquarters and production are based in Campodarsego, between Padua and Venice. Keeping design and manufacturing in the same place allows us to follow each piece closely, shorten the distance between decisions and execution, and guarantee consistent results, especially when a project requires customization.

This is where tailor-made becomes a controlled process: from configuration choices to finishing details, we manage every step in-house, with strict oversight and a direct link between workshop know-how and production flow.
