TRAYS BACI ALL' ITALIANA

SBAM DESIGN

New Design Ideas

"Baci all'Italiana" is a project born from the desire to give kisses to people around us and bring them literally on a tray collection!

4 kisses, 4 italian design icons with a romantic, timeless feeling.

We decided to get help from the skillful hand of the Italian illustrator Alan Zeni.

The Moka, the "Bigrigio", the 500 and the Vespa are the protagonists of these four trays of different sizes, together with the famous characters in love designed by Alan Zeni.

The designs deliberately fill only partially the object, leaving an empty part, like a blank sheet to fill, everyone with what they prefer!

The trays are in beech (wood stratified) and can be washed in the dishwasher.

ALAN ZENI

Illustrator, lyricist, photographer, tattoo artist, creator of ideas. Difficult to frame in a few words the expressive universe of Alan Zeni, multifaceted artist loved above all for his unmistakable kisses.

Design Icon n°4

la Vespa

Designer:
Corradino D'Ascanio

Curiosity:
The Vespa was born with the idea of creating a bodyshell motorcycle load-bearing, suitable for everyone's use days and affordable for everyone. Keywords are economy, design simplicity, practicality, safety.

Producer: Piaggio

Produced from: 1946

Bialetti got the inspiration for the Moka by watching his wife do laundry with a washing machine called "Isciveuse". In this washing machine, there was a sort of boiler (in which put the clothes, water and detergent) with a hose, whose upper end was pierced; having come to a boil, the water it went up along the tube, here, it cooled and went down again, melting the lye, (cheap soap used at that time) that could better spread on the clothes.

The origin of the name "Vespa" remains uncertain. According to the most famous version, it would have been born from an exclamation by Enrico Piaggio who at the sight of the prototype he exclaimed: «it looks like a wasp !», because of the sound of the engine and the shapes of the bodywork.

LUMINARIE

Lumin arte
dettagli di luce

From the brilliant enthusiasm of a young lighting artist, involved since childhood in the world of electrical systems, Luminarte was born.

A project that has at heart the putting into practice of the deeper meaning of the verb furnish, "to take care".

Indeed, Luminarte's main objective is to embellish indoor and outdoor spaces by scrupulously dedicating itself to the influence of light details.

Details that, after being studied and designed to measure for each environment, come to life becoming unmistakable design and furnishing objects.

Before designing a decorative light in all its light details, we let ourselves be inspired by beauty. A flower, an architectural work, a painting, a landscape.

We think of our lights as design objects which, even before illuminating the rooms, illuminate the eyes of those who receive them.

The structure of these lamps is entirely in pine plywood, handcrafted.

Made in Italy

A BIT OF HISTORY

The first prototypes of illuminations appeared in the 16th century when simple structures were built in fir wood to illuminate religious and pagan village festivals. These first attempts took the forms of the sketches of artists of absolute fame such as Michelangelo and Bernini.

It is in Salento and in the Land of Otranto that the first examples of illuminations begin to appear, which emphasized the Baroque architectural style that was slowly taking shape. Originally the lights were nothing more than torches covered with colored cloths or small vases containing oil for lamps. Later they became "parature", that is, structures of wooden poles and arches, to which glass glasses containing lamp oil were hung.

It was only at the beginning of the twentieth century that the Apulian lights took on a shape closer to the one we know today, that is when oil lamps gave way to incandescent bulbs, white or colored. Today the Apulian lights are back in the limelight, becoming a symbol of Salento culture.

These simple structures in fir wood are considered real works of art, appreciated not only locally!
