About us

Palazzo Morelli is an Italian finishing contractor dedicated to surfaces, furniture and interior design.

Founded by Alessandro Ortenzi in 2006 in the Italian medieval town of Todi, Palazzo Morelli expresses Italian finest quality, attention to details and innovative professional services for architects, interior designers and real estate developers.

Palazzo Morelli is a modern and international firm that offers turn- key solutions and a complete catalogue of surfaces made in Italy. The staff is driven by a tailor-made approach to customers: bespoke solutions, custom-made surfaces and finishings.

Our story

The name of the company comes from the aristocratic family Morelli that at the end of the XVII century acquired a patrician palace in the centre of Todi (Umbria), hereafter known as Palazzo Morelli.

The Morelli family was a prominent and wealthy one, whose members officiated even in Rome at the Vatican. After being acquired at the end of the XIX by other local owners, the historical building Palazzo Morelli was at last purchased and brought back by the family of Alessandro Ortenzi.

The palace has a valuable piano nobile articulated in three halls decorated with fine frescos depicting Mnemosyne and the other Charites in neoclassical style painted by Angelini and Baldini in 1838.

The emblem of the Family Morelli became the distinguishing logotype of the company founded in 2005 by Alessandro Ortenzi.

Philosophy and Showroom

Opificio Tiberina is the name of the international show room Palazzo Morelli located in Todi.

The building itself is an interesting example of Umbrian industrial archaeology completely restored and renovated to become the operational office Palazzo Morelli.

In this location the creative and technical department designs products, selects materials, perfects production engineering of surfaces and creates amazing interior designs.

Palazzo Morelli begins each project only after thoroughly understanding the client's wishes and needs, and makes a proposal based on a substantial research effort.

This allows Palazzo Morelli to broaden its choices in customizing its existing lines of products or to create custom-made solutions.

These may include onyx, bronze, stainless steel or selections of the highest quality leather, combining these materials in most unique and elegant ways. Palazzo Morelli offers a wide variety of ecofriendly finishes and tints and source materials are fully certified to be in compliance with EU and other international standards.

Production

Palazzo Morelli offers a new approach to marble, stone, wood and terracotta processing having developed an effective combination in-house of consultancy, cutting-edge technology and project management.

Thanks to a strong experience in complementary fields, for example, joinery, metal works and upholstery, Palazzo Morelli can offer complex turn-key solutions for bespoke flooring, covering, built-in furniture and accessories successfully combining different materials.

Processing takes place in Italy to guarantee the highest quality Technical design, high-precision equipment, finishing by hand and permanent control of the quality: that's how we create our surfaces.

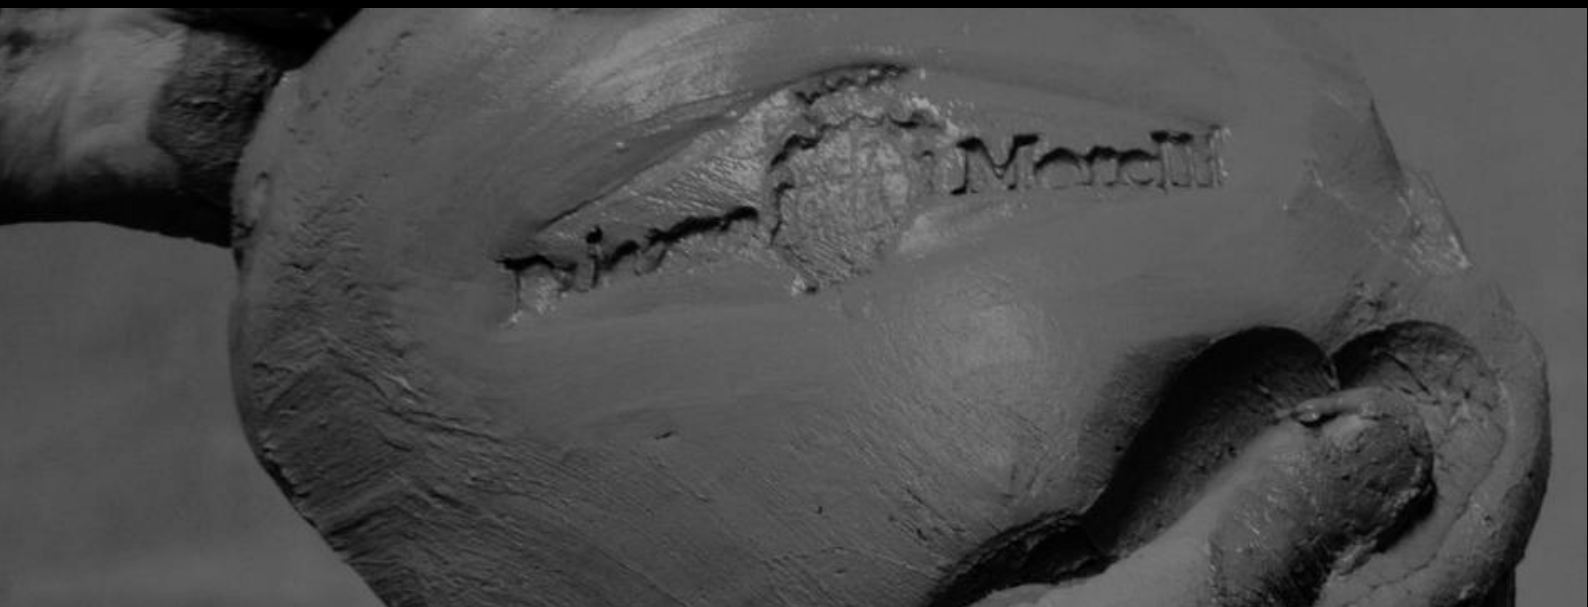

Like a tailor-made suit, bespoke surfaces made by Palazzo Morelli fit perfectly the space to decorate thanks to smart designing and careful manufacturing that keeps an eye on the installation methods that best suit each purpose.

Marble and Stone

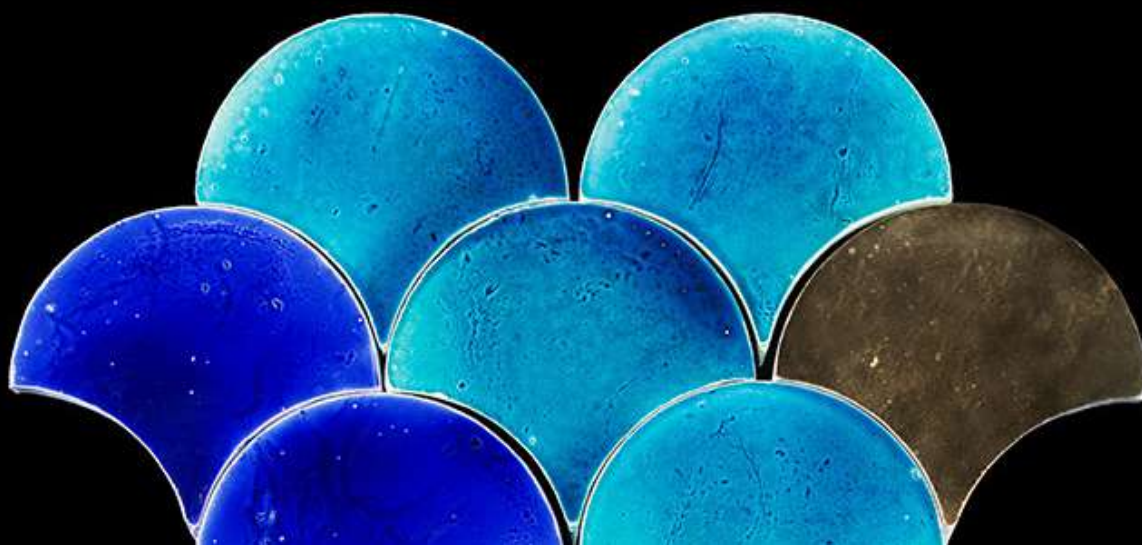

Palazzo Morelli provides clients with a marble and stone collection that includes over 400 fine materials sourced in Italy and from the rest of the world. The team completes project-based research and supply of rare or reclaimed materials. Before the start of manufacturing, the client is asked to expressly approve the slabs selected by Palazzo Morelli stone specialists to reach a natural and balanced final result.

Terracotta and enamels

Palazzo Morelli terracotta is manufactured by hand and fired in a chestnut-wood burning kiln as in the most genuine artisanal tradition. The tiles come from a slow manufacturing process and clays are sourced exclusively from controlled quarries. Stage after stage, the tiles are moulded by hand by skilled craftsmen. Careful control of the functional and aesthetic features of the tiles makes it possible that Palazzo Morelli terracotta is the perfect choice for interior flooring covering and wall decoration. Along with terracotta interpreted with special clay blends and contemporary finishings, Palazzo Morelli offers pictorial collections painted by hand using enamels and resins to create custom-made decorations, mosaics and tailor-made atmospheres.

Fine wood

Palazzo Morelli approaches the noble art and craft of woodworking and parquet manufacturing through an original combination of high technology equipment and handmade finishing created by skilled makers and woodcarvers. Thanks to its strong experience in complementary fields as, for example, marble and stone working, metal works and upholstery, Palazzo Morelli is able to offer complex turnkey solutions for bespoke flooring, covering, built-in furniture and accessories successfully combining different materials.

Bespoke surfaces

Technical design, handmade manufacturing and permanent quality control: that's how Palazzo Morelli creates furniture and surfaces.

Like a tailor-made suit, a bespoke production shall fit perfectly the space to decorate thanks to smart design and total understanding of the project. Palazzo Morelli provides the client with consulting technical service to create custom-made mouldings, sizes, patterns, colours and finishing that perfectly meet their design needs.
