

ELENA KIHLMAN

HANDMADE FASHION

Elena Kihlman design and produce home textiles, design items, handmade bags. Her products are the result of an accurate study of ancient fabrics and techniques, creating a new interior atmosphere, where design meets traditional handcrafts.

In the heart of Rome, a stone's throw from the Coliseum, Elena Kihlman, Finnish designer found the home of her creations more than ten years ago.

Elena was born in Russia, studied and worked in Finland and now lives in Rome. His creative work is based and enriched on these three cultures.

Living in Italy she continues to travel often when she can to see new places, has not stopped discovering the beauty of this country and excellence of Italy, which she inspires a lot to create its bags and textiles. It is his unique way of re-evaluating reality and therefore of expressing and emphasizing individuality.

Elegance, functionality and essentiality of the shapes are the basic principles that have forged the Nordic design over time, making it highly characterized and well recognizable. This is due to the designer's choice of production techniques of textile, color and style.

Elena Kihlman has always to focus on functionality, interest in material processes and an urgency to understand what products are made of. All development and production are all done by roman artisans to ensure their quality.

Each model is handmade, cutting and sewing in her atelier starting from the designer's sketch.

The flexibility and the ability to satisfy individual needs are the main characteristic of "Elena Kihlman Design."
