olive oil

The virgin type is obtained by the mechanical pressing of the olives.

Andria's olive oil has beneficial properties due to the presence of special antioxidant substances such as phenol, carotenoid and tocopherol.

Our extra virgin olive oil is produced only from certified and quality olive groves. We are careful not to use pesticides or other chemical herbicides that ruin the quality of the olives. Our olives are selected to obtain the oil with the best taste.

What makes our olive oil so special?

The oleuropein promotes the formation of nitric acid, which acts as a vasodilator and has antibacterial properties. It is also the main food source of the antioxidant which, compared to other phenols present in different oils, is one of the most effective to combat the oxidative stress of free radicals and LDL cholesterol in red blood cells. It has been shown that the substances contained in olive oil play a beneficial role in the prevention of cardiovascular diseases such as atherosclerosis.

GENUINE

The cultivation of vines in Apulia dates back to ancient times, in particular to the Phoenician era, although in reality it was the Romans who were the first to appreciate Apulian wines, enhancing their qualities and their aromas. In the following centuries the spread of the terrible phylloxera caused the almost total extermination of the vineyards: this disaster became the occasion to make qualitative changes to the production system.

blending wines and, in part, aiming at quality with the introduction of the Negroamaro and Primitivo grape varieties. Over the years these actions were rewarded and the success was so great that these vines still represent the Apulian oenology in the world. The Apulian vineyards are dominated in an undisputed way by the red grapes, which cover more than 80%. The wines that reign in the wine-growing territory of Puglia are Negroamaro and Primitivo, followed by Bombino bianco e nero, Trebbiano toscano, uva di Troia, sangiovese, montepulciano, malvasia nera. In addition to the 4 Controlled and Guaranteed Designations of Origin (DOCG), Puglia includes 28 Controlled Designations of Origin (DOC), the highest number of DOCs in Italy after Tuscany.
