We believe in quality, in the search for details, in the careful selection of the best craftsmen and in the production entirely made in Italy. We believe in trust and respect for workers; for this reason our laboratories are carefully chosen not only for the quality of production, but also for the quality of human relationships and respect for the craftsmen who make our items.

We believe in welcoming and listening to the needs of our customers, we believe that each of them is unique and that it is our job to make sure that you find the most suitable and special product every time. We believe in the value of our work, and we want that value to be shared with craftsmen and customers.

OUR BAGS

The word bag comes from the Latin “bursa”, that is, a leather container capable of “wrapping” the person helping him to transport the tools of the first trades of the time.

The concept of Lale Line is to update this definition, making a bag accompanying the personality of the wearer, an accessory capable of “wrapping” and becoming an essential element of everyday life.
