

PRISCILLA DINAMO

PRISCILLA DINAMO

We are proud to present the result of the commitment and research that has seen us involved in the last year. A difficult year for Italy and the whole world. A blocked world, frozen by fear and uncertainty. A wounded world, a world torn between concern for the pandemic's effects and the desire for rebirth. However, we have not given up. We have not succumbed to mistrust and discouragement. We wanted to go on. We wanted to commit even more to pursue our dream. The dream of creating products capable of enhancing and enhancing the beauty hidden in each of us. A unique and authentic beauty. Designed and made entirely in Italy, our products result from craftsmanship, research, and innovation. We created each piece to be refined, versatile, and timeless. We have used high-quality materials and fine finishes for products capable of enduring. We have revisited classic models in an unconventional way to create an elegant style with clean and minimal lines but with a pinch of pepper –the Priscilla Dinamo's style.

I am different from what you think. I am much more. I am proud of who I am. I like myself as I am, with my weaknesses and my flaws. I am not afraid to go against the tide, to say what I think, to profess what I believe, to be myself.

I am not afraid of failing. I love beauty, the one admired by all, but above all the hidden one. The beauty that you discover by chance, that which blossoms from a kind act, from an act of peaceful rebellion, from silence in the midst of a sea of screams. I love the intimacy of a sincere relationship. I love art, the one that makes you laugh and that makes you cry, the one that comforts and the one that provokes. Art that knows no barriers, walls, or differences, which shows truth from unexpected perspectives. I hate the obvious, the banality.

I hate the pride of those who believe they know how a story will go even before having lived it. I hate those who criticize without putting themselves out there for a change. I hate those who show themselves off, those who try to appear without being, those who seek consent and admiration at all costs. I want to live chasing my dreams, without worrying if I will ever be able to make them come true. I want to live my passions. I want to walk around the city as if I were on a mountain path, with my gaze lost in a clear and infinite sky. I want to shut up and listen. I want to understand, fight, get involved, participate in the change. For me, for the people I love, and for the world we live in.
