

MINAMO COLLECTION

DESIGN, CULTURE, PROJECTS

Architecture is truly well-being. I believe people want to feel good in a space... On one hand, it's a shelter; on the other, it's also a source of pleasure.

ZAHA HADID - architect

LegnoMArt, an artisanal woodworking studio established in 1978, is renowned for designing and crafting high-performance wooden doors and windows, bespoke furniture, and custom-made interior elements. It is our laboratory of experimentation, where traditional craftsmanship meets innovation and design to bring truly unique creations to life.

Atelier Martinello serves as the platform for special projects, developed in close collaboration with architects, designers, and partner companies. We believe that only through such collaboration can we foster virtuous paths that celebrate people, enhance the territory, and honor the cultural heritage we represent as ambassadors.

MINAMO COLLECTION

Water is the mirror that allows us to see what we cannot see. It reminds us that reality can change even with a single positive thought.

Masaru Emoto

In Japanese, Minamo means “surface of the water.”

Like a body of water reflecting hidden emotions and perceptions, the Minamo Collection transforms the surface of wood into a unique sensory experience.

Inspired by the Japanese aesthetic principles of wabi-sabi (the beauty of imperfection) and shibui (subtle, understated elegance), Minamo invites you to explore the beauty of imperfection and the elegance of restraint through wood finishes that evoke gentle ripples and shifting reflections on water.

Each finish is designed to interact with light and space, offering material solutions ideal for those seeking harmony, authenticity, and originality in their projects.

Minamo is an invitation to look beyond matter—toward a surface that reflects, embraces, and inspires.

MINAMO COLLECTION

The wooden surfaces signed by LegnoMART are born from the meeting of traditional craftsmanship and innovative research. An exclusive collection of wooden panels, entirely designed and developed by our in-house team.

Available in natural, matte, or metallic finishes, these panels combine refined aesthetics with functional versatility.

Crafted through sophisticated processes that transform both the surface and the perception of the material, these panels elevate the wood grain into true works of art. In the metallic finish, the tactile experience is redefined: the wood is transfigured, taking on the appearance and feel of metal.

Ideal for wall cladding, they are equally suited for bespoke furniture, tabletops, and design objects.

Each surface is conceived to enhance the intrinsic quality of wood, transforming it into a distinctive element for residential, commercial, and representative spaces.

Thanks to meticulous attention to detail and continuous research into excellence, LegnoMART positions itself as the ideal partner for architects and designers seeking high-quality materials and timeless design.
