THE EXTRAORDINARY BENEFICIAL PROPERTIES OF BROWN RICE SPROUTS

Bio SuRice® Project is a revolutionary line of natural cosmetics dedicated to face-care. Bio SuRice® is a unique patent in Italy, a revolution in the field of food and now in natural cosmetics which, by using the extraordinary beneficial properties of rice sprouts, improves the appearance of the skin thanks to its regenerating, soothing and repairing action. A patented matrix, rich in active elements that help the epidermis to produce collagen and counteract its reduction through the Anti-Age action of natural elements such as γ-Aminobutyric Acid (GABA) and Niacin that act in advance on the main reactions that cause skin ageing.

The regenerating, repairing and soothing action of Bio SuRice® has been demonstrated by laboratory tests that have shown how the composition of amino acids and micronutrients, with 17 amino acids present, 8 of which are essential, supports the development and production of collagen. Its topical application allows the skin to recover 554.45% more vitality than the normal connective tissue restoration cycle, as well as ensuring a significant reduction in the production of inflammation mediators.

Bio SuRice® Project is therefore a line of natural, functional, and active dermo-cosmetic products suitable for all skin types, recommended for constant and daily use both for women and men.
