Revolutionary Design

New balances in shapes and colors

The new colors transform concrete, an essential and archetypal material, into a living canvas capable of expressing personality and atmosphere.

Contemporary pigmentations,

from warm and material tones to the more vibrant and modern ones, they give energy and refinement to a traditionally rough material, enhancing its sensory character.

The Shapes, freed from any structural constraint, they bend to a language of pure aesthetic research: decentralized volumes, fluid lines and unexpected proportions give life to objects that do not simply occupy space, but enhance it embodying an authentic and identity-driven design.
