MORE THAN 10.000 VISUAL FRAGMENTS
FROM THE RIALTO BRIDGE IN VENICE

35.267 photo-fragments
360 shooting hours on the bridge from 2013
18.500 gondolas passed under the bridge

These are the numbers of Rivus Altus, a photographic project that puts together, in an unedited way, the world renowned view of Venice: the view from the Rialto bridge. Many years of stakeout (2013-2021) in the same place, night and day, with the aim to photograph changes of a landscape of the city through its views. Decomposing and recomposing, approaching or moving away thousands and thousands of fragments made of light, shadows, silence and noise the user invents what judged to be the perfect panorama necessary to him, extracting it from the possible 3,8x10¹⁰ variations.

The project is work-in-progress.
