The PA360 Training on skills project focuses on developing and enhancing transversal skills in the workplace (soft skills) and in life in general—at school, with family and friends, and in social relationships (life skills).

Our e-learning courses and training video games on “Soft & Life skills” are suitable for everyone:

- Private and public employees of all roles and professional profiles
- Managers, directors, executives, middle managers, department heads, officials, team leaders
- Newly hired employees from private companies and public sector organizations
- Employees, consultants, trainees, interns
- People who want to prepare effectively for job interviews in the private sector
- People applying for competitive state examinations in the public sector
- Students, unemployed, jobseekers
- People who would like to develop managerial, executive and leadership skills
- People seeking to enhance behavioural, cognitive, emotional, relational, organizational, achievement, and management skills—which are all extremely useful at work and in life in general (at school, with family and friends, and in social relationships)
