Rome, June 5th 2024

To whom it may concern

Page Europa, a reputable and well-known System Integrator, specializes in the design, integration and implementation of IT, communications, security and surveillance systems in the Energy, Defense and Critical Infrastructure markets.

The company has over 65 years of experience in providing turnkey integrated telecommunications and security systems globally, operating in land, maritime and mobile sectors.

Our solutions are designed to perform in extreme environments, ensuring reliability and responsiveness on any onshore industrial environment, offshore facilities and critical infrastructures. By emphasizing an independent approach to systems integration, Page Europa tailors each solution to meet specific customer needs, providing unmatched effectiveness and support to the end-user operations.

Page Europa is currently engaged on projects across Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Asia, delivering fully integrated solutions in critical environments.

Headquarters and project offices are located in the following countries:

- Rome (Italy) – Main Headquarter
- Izmir (Turkey) – Pagetel headquarter
- Muscat (Oman) – Page Middle East headquarter
- Brunei – Page Asia Pacific headquarter
- Dammam (Arabia Saudita) – Project office
- Doha (Qatar) – Project office

Our customers are private organizations and government agencies, heterogeneous among them but all very demanding in terms of compliance with requirements, schedule, quality and security.
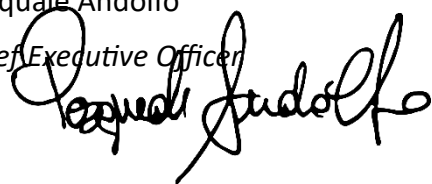

At PAGE EUROPA, we hold ourselves to the highest ethical standards. Our commitment to corporate responsibility extends beyond mere compliance with laws and regulations. We believe that ethical behavior is essential for sustainable business success. For more information, please visit
