Ministero degli Affari Esteri
e della Cooperazione Internazionale

Dear Guests and Exhibitors,

It is a great pleasure for me to welcome you and wish you a successful participation in the 2026 edition of INDEX Saudi Arabia.

Over the past year, relations between Italy and Saudi Arabia have continued to deepen, building on the momentum generated by the visit to the Kingdom of the Italian Prime Minister, Hon. Giorgia Meloni, in January 2025, which led to the formalization of the Strategic Partnership between the two countries. This positive trajectory was further reinforced by the visit of Italy's Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, Hon. Antonio Tajani, last November, when he co-chaired the Italy-Saudi Arabia Business and Investment Forum – the largest ever organized by Italy abroad –, bringing together representatives of 1,500 companies. These high-level exchanges have provided further impetus to our economic partnership, fostering closer ties between our business communities and opening up new opportunities for cooperation across an increasingly broad range of sectors.

The strength and diversity of our economic relationship are reflected in the growing presence of Italian companies in the Saudi market. Italy is keen to further broaden the scope of bilateral cooperation into new areas, while seizing the significant investment opportunities arising from Saudi Arabia's ambitious Vision 2030 agenda. Italian exports to the Kingdom reached € 6.315 billion in 2025, underscoring the growing strategic importance of the Saudi market, where Italian products continue to strengthen their position.

Against this backdrop, our shared objective is to foster investments, innovation and sustainable growth in both directions, from Italy to Saudi Arabia and from Saudi Arabia to Italy, while building long-term partnerships based on mutual benefit and trust.

Italy's participation in INDEX is a further expression of this growing engagement. This year, Italy's National Pavilion alone will host around 30 companies. Indeed, despite a complex and rapidly evolving international environment, the strong interest of Italian businesses and investors in Saudi Arabia has remained undiminished. Italian companies are here to showcase their creativity, design excellence, advanced technologies and high-quality products, while establishing new commercial relationships and contributing their expertise to the Kingdom's remarkable path of economic diversification and development.

Italian operators in Saudi Arabia can count on the full and continued support of the "Sistema Italia" in the Kingdom. We are committed to facilitating dialogue, encouraging new partnerships and bringing more Italian excellence, innovation and know-how to Saudi Arabia.

I wish you all a successful and productive INDEX 2026. Welcome to the Italian Pavilion!

Carlo Baldocci

Ambassador of Italy in Saudi Arabia

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to INDEX Saudi Arabia 2026, one of the region's leading platforms for interior design, furniture, lighting, materials, and contract solutions. Italy is proud to participate once again with a strong and diverse presence through the Italian National Pavilion, organised by the Italian Trade Agency, bringing together 28 Italian companies across a 360-square-metre exhibition area. The Pavilion offers visitors the opportunity to discover a wide range of Italian products and solutions, from furniture and lighting to materials, finishes, textiles, and bespoke interior concepts.

Italian design is internationally recognised for its ability to combine tradition and craftsmanship with creativity, innovation, technology, and sustainability. The companies participating in this year's exhibition represent this distinctive approach, offering solutions that respond to the increasingly sophisticated demands of contemporary architecture, hospitality, residential, and commercial projects.

Our participation comes at an important moment in Saudi Arabia's development. The Kingdom is witnessing an extraordinary transformation, with ambitious investments in tourism, hospitality, culture, residential developments, and major urban projects. This dynamic environment is creating significant opportunities for cooperation, and Italian companies are well positioned to contribute their expertise, creativity, and high-quality solutions.

The Italian National Pavilion is therefore not only a showcase of Made in Italy, but also a platform for building new relationships and strengthening business partnerships between Italian and Saudi companies.

I warmly invite architects, designers, developers, investors, and industry professionals to visit the Pavilion, meet the participating companies, and discover the excellence and innovation of Italian design.

I wish all exhibitors and visitors a successful and productive INDEX Saudi Arabia 2026, and I look forward to seeing further opportunities for cooperation between Italy and Saudi Arabia in the years ahead.

Welcome, and enjoy your visit to the exhibition.

AINA KARI

Born from fire, shaped by hand, every creation carries the breath of its maker — an honest dialogue between heritage and vision.

Sculptural vases, luminous chandeliers, and living décor in Murano glass are more than objects — they are statements of coherence, originality, and courage. Aina Kari is rooted in Treviso, a small gem town nourished by the light of Venice and the mastery of Murano. Here, nature and tradition merge into experimentation, where glass, hand-hammered brass, and noble Palissandro marble are transformed into timeless forms. The design boutique creates for those who seek meaning in matter, for those who understand that true luxury lies not in excess, but in craft, rarity, and spirit.

Each piece is a tribute to artisans who dare, to heritage that inspires, and to the future we are shaping — one flame, one gesture, one vision at a time.

This is Aina Kari. A place where art becomes life, and life becomes design.

TAMMARO HOME

Glass craftsmanship is a fundamental part of Italian culture and identity. Therefore, the company represents Italian excellence in the global community of artisanal glassmaking. The only way to ensure high-quality Murano-style glass products is to follow the same rigorous rules that make the characteristics of Murano glass so sought-after. Here are some of the principles we adhere to in creating artistic glassware:

Beauty. No glassmaker has ever spent hours and days melting glass just to produce unsightly artistic glassware.

On the contrary, the most ancient techniques have remained unchanged for millennia precisely because they guarantee aesthetically pleasing results. The very process of learning to glasswork focuses on helping aspiring glassmakers produce aesthetically beautiful creations.

Creativity. In our case, master glassmaker Antonio Tammaro is the latest descendant of a long line of master glassmakers who have dedicated centuries to honing their craft and passing it down from father to son.

Durability. In this regard, suffice it to say that one of the secrets of glassmaking is the use of specific blends of different types of sand to make all artistic glass items as long-lasting as possible.

Heritage. The art of glassmaking is the artistic heritage of Italy as a whole. Since Roman times, Italians have created and perfected this art to the utmost. It is a part of our culture that we must protect.

Lightweight. Light-weight art glassware is easier to move around. It's also essential if you want to decorate a lighting system or use it for a variety of interior design purposes.

Brightness. The sparkling Murano-style glass captures the gaze of lovers of the genre precisely because of its brilliance.

Uniqueness. While some themes and motifs are typical of Murano glass, each piece must always be unique.

VETRART

Vetrart, glass factory founded in 1990 by Daniele Bagnara and Alessandra Schiano, has become over time a creative team of Venetian glass masters, who try to preserve and pass on one of the most famous and refined traditions of the Veneto region, as well as one of the most famous and popular in the world, working manually each piece. A unique manufacturing process, one of the greatest examples of Made in Italy exclusivity. The production is completely hand made blowing by mouth and work by hands. This process permits to create original and unique pieces of craftsmanship, rich in passion and tradition. Thanks to the quality of the products and the natural elegance that the glass releases, Vetrart has established itself over time first in the Italian territory, gradually expanding into the European and global market.

Vetrart, initially born as a manufacturer of high quality gift items and home furnishing accessories, has developed over the years, innovating and transforming itself towards the new market needs. Its core business currently concerns the design lighting sector.
