The Art of Italian Design

Sustainability is SustainabITALY

Italy is the 4th global producer of furniture. Italian furniture are among the most desired ones– also in the UAE where Italy is the 2nd supplier with almost Euro 200 million worth of products exported. In the first 6 months of 2022, statistics recorded a +21% in value (105 mln Euro) compared to same period of the previous year

Italian design is an expression of beauty, innovation and sustainability all together., “Made in Italy” has become also synonymous with sustainable design thanks to some best “green practices” implemented by the Italian companies

In fact, Italian wood interior decoration industry is 1st in Europe and 3rd in the world in terms of circular economy, by releasing less CO2 emissions than any other large EU producers: 26 kg per thousand euro of production, compared to 93 kgs average by the 4 main European producing countries.

Furthermore, almost all of the Italian production of chipboard panels (93%) is made entirely with recycled wood.

In terms of production processes, 64% of companies have implemented efficiency measures which reduce production waste, and more than half reuse internal or external waste. In the last three years, 44% have activated mechanisms to reduce water consumption, including the reuse of process water. 60% of companies also procure from renewable energy sources and 40% manage to cover at least half of their needs with renewable energy

That's why, presenting Italy at Downtown Design 2022, we at ITA invented the motto: Sustainability is Sustainab-ITALY !

Arcahorn

In 1958 Mario Guerra, a young artisan fascinated by natural materials and intricate craftsmanship, decided to set up a workshop in Recanati, a small Italian town rich in culture and ancient traditions. Thus was born A.R.C.A. Artigiana Recanatese Corno e Affini, a company specialized in the processing of Zebu horn which is molded into unique pieces.

The first creations included an extensive selection of cutlery, tableware, jewelry and personal care accessories. With just the hands and the help of fire and of a few tools, horn is shaped into timeless objects and reveals its veins that are always different by nature. Horn shades are combined with other precious materials selected with obsessive care in order to obtain exclusive pieces that make our daily gestures unique.

Over time, the founder conveyed his passion and know-how to his sons, Giorgio and Silvia. In the early 2000s the company started collaborating with designers and embraced a new path, focused in the production of complementary furniture.

In 2013, the company registered the trademark Arcahorn and mainly focused on the manufacturing of high-end furniture, while still remaining faithful to traditional craftsmanship. Each piece stands out for its impeccable quality and meticulous attention to detail and it's conceived to enter the most elegant private residences, yachts, hotels and boutiques, also with bespoke solutions.

Moschella

Moschella designs and manufactures seating solutions for the office space, the contract area and the auditorium.

The company, founded by Pasquale Moschella in 2007, was born as a laboratory of artisan creations in which chairs and armchairs take shape for a small group of private customers.

Today, the company focuses its production on three main themes: the high quality of the materials used, continuous design innovation and the development of an iconic design. After three decades of experience in the furniture sector, Pasquale Moschella wanted to realize an idea: to found a company capable of offering furnishing solutions for a comfortable, innovative and flexible working environment.

Collaborations with national and international companies have led Moschella to achieve a high quality standard.

Teúkhō

Born from the happy intuition of the Garzitto family, the historical name of timber in Friuli, the experience of Teúkhō has its roots in the deep knowledge and love for wood, this extraordinary material that has always accompanied man in his history. And it is precisely from history, thousands of years old, that today we draw our design creations.

The essence of our designs derives from incredibly rare and unique fossil logs, not yet petrified, which date back to between 5000 to 6000 BC. These mineralized logs showcase distinctive characteristics of the wood; they assume a particular elasticity, coloring and texture that is impossible to reproduce artificially.

The charm of a material born in the mists of time is enhanced with modern design, technology, materials and manufacturing techniques. The result is our collection of hand-crafted furniture and accessories, unique objects shaped by nature over thousands of years and interpreted in a contemporary key by teukhò. Get hold of a unique work, produced with a wood from a bygone era:

Are you ready to start this journey with us?
