China furniture exports fell 4.7 % in the first 10 months

In the first 10 months, China's cumulative exports of furniture and parts reached 371.86 billion yuan ($ 52.22 billion), down 4.7% year-on-year. October alone recorded 33.47 billion yuan ($4.70 billion), a 12.7% decline year-on-year and 13% lower than in September. The October slowdown was driven by two factors: last year's high base that depressed this year's comparison, and the lingering impact of U.S. punitive tariffs.

China revoked the suspension of logs import from U.S.

On 7 November, China's General Administration of Customs issued announcement, formally revoking the March notice that had suspended imports of U.S. logs. With effect from 10 November, the eight-month freeze on trade will be lifted. Rebuilding supply chains and securing vessel space will take time, so only modest volumes of U.S. logs are expected to arrive at Chinese ports and clear customs before the end of December.
