

NEWSLETTER

HOME/FURNITURE/DESIGN

16 - 22 March 2026

China's Ceramic Exports Surged 26.9% in Early 2026

China's ceramic product exports reached RMB 27.04 billion (approximately $3.7 billion) during January-February 2026, marking a robust year-on-year increase of 26.9%, according to official customs data. The double-digit growth reflects strong international demand for Chinese ceramics and the sector's continued export competitiveness. (China National Furniture Association)

China's Trillion-Yuan Renovation Market Awakens

With nearly 300 million existing housing units, 70% to 80% built before 2014, millions of kitchens and bathrooms remain untouched for over a decade, creating vast untapped demand. The theoretical annual market potential for renovation and remodeling is estimated to reach 10 trillion yuan ($1.4 trillion), as policy shifts from new construction to upgrading aging homes. (Tencent news)

The retail sales of furniture surged 8.8% in the first two months in China

China's furniture retail sales reached 27.6 billion yuan ($3.94 billion) in January-February, up 8.8% year-on-year. The robust performance reflects rising demand for personalized and eco-friendly furnishings as consumers prioritize living quality upgrades. Meanwhile, sustained trade-in policies further unlocked market potential, driving stronger-than-expected sector momentum. (China National Furniture Association)

The retail sales of building and decoration materials declined 2.2% in January-February 2026

China's building and decoration materials retail sales totaled 20.4 billion yuan ($2.91 billion) in January-February 2026, marking a 2.2% year-on-year decline. The modest contraction reflects ongoing weakness in the property sector as new construction starts remain sluggish and home renovation demand stays subdued. (Sina.cn)

The sales of home appliances surged in the first two months 2026

China's home appliance trade-in program has sold 17.13 million units since the beginning of this year, generating 69.44 billion yuan ($9.92 billion) in sales revenue. The robust performance underscores the policy's effectiveness in stimulating replacement demand and unlocking pent-up consumption potential across households nationwide. (Xinhua)