The importance of participation at Baghdad International Fair:

1. The geographical location of Baghdad International Fair in Baghdad, which made it a link between the two sides of the capital Karkh and Rusafa and an easy road for most of its areas close to the transport garages linking the provinces to transport local participants and visitors as well as the international highway to Baghdad International Airport through the fair for visiting delegations and participation.
2. An opportunity to meet with the governmental entities keen to visit the fair annually for the belief in the need to support the private sector and improve the level of performance to be an important economic support to support the Iraqi economy under the direction of a free market economy instead of the public sector and the role of the latter to supervise the way of performance and provide investment opportunities in most areas.,
3. making use of the huge and increasing volume of visitors to Baghdad Fair annually, as a result of the growth and increase of the presence of places of aesthetic, heritage and tourism in addition to places to shop with Iraqi goods and some Arab and international companies, reinforced by the high level of income of the Iraqi individual, which reflected positively in the turnout of purchase.
4. Baghdad International Fair is the largest socio-economic cultural gathering with a political dimension that reflects positively the development and progress and the keenness to provide everything new and modern and allows the participating companies to meet with relevant government parties and agencies under one dome
5. Baghdad International Fair is a very valuable opportunity to promote products that cost producing companies large sums outside this economic gathering.
6. Baghdad International Fair is an economic phenomenon held in the country once a year in a timely manner which is considered ideal taking into account the results of the ongoing questionnaires for each session and through the analysis of the data which indicated 70% positive timing of the year.
7. New nations and companies participating for the first time considered a positive sign of the success of this pioneering experience and the establishment of a strong partnership and the creation of an important opportunity for the exchange of experiences between Iraqi businessmen and their counterparts from the other countries, especially in light of the tendency to open ports and border crossings that were previously closed. All that will contribute to the ease of transit of goods and services. This is the result of our brave forces to defeat terrorism and liberate the lands.
